

Marching forward...

National

Commander

Daniel J. Seehafer

Once again, the Department of Defense (DoD) may be faced with another continuing resolution (CR), which would compromise national defense strategy and undermine improving quality of life issues for servicemembers.

In essence, a CR would cap funding at the previous year's levels, providing none of the approved increases and preventing any new programs from beginning that were authorized in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2024.

It is not the time to be reducing our military capability. But that is exactly what the CR would do.

This stop-start-stop-start game also disrupts the hard-working employees of DoD, as well as the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). They are the backbone to the services provided to our veterans and the defense of our nation. Their ability to carry out their critical work should not be subjected to the whims of a polarized Congress.

Speaking of Congress, I am scheduled to provide testimony on behalf of our great organization on March 13. If Congress does not sufficiently pass funding to support our military and VA, you better believe I will make our feelings known loud and clear.

There is no better time than right now to do the right thing for America, its military members and their families. Congress must pass an actual spending bill to ensure our military is properly funded throughout this year. 19th District Next E-Board meeting Wednesday March 6th Rivera Post 411 7842 Serapis Ave, Pico Rivera, CA

Larry Taylor, most recent Medal of Honor recipient dies at age 81

President Joe Biden awards the Medal of Honor to Capt. Larry Taylor, an Army pilot from the Vietnam War who risked his life to rescue a reconnaissance team that was about to be overrun by the enemy, during a ceremony Tuesday, Sept. 5, 2023, in the East Room of the White House in Washington. (Jacquelyn Martin/AP)

The most recent Medal of Honor recipient died Sunday after a lengthy battle with cancer.

Capt. Larry Taylor, 81, waited 55 years before his piloting heroics that saved the lives of four men during the Vietnam War were recognized with the nation's highest award for military valor.

His remains will be buried at the Chattanooga National Cemetery, home to those of fellow Medal of Honor recipients Charles Coolidge and Desmond Doss, the Chattanooga Times Free Press reported.

Fernando Gallardo—Commander

Comrades,

I would like to let you know that District 19 membership renewal is coming along with a 83.44% membership renewal. We need to continue to conduct buddy checks with fellow members and see how they and their families are doing. I would like to congratulate Clyde F. Hager Post and Hawthorne Post 314 for achieving 100% membership renewal, 2023-2024. I would like to let all of you know that on Saturday February 17, 2024, the District will have a Revitalization at Rivera Post 411 from 9am to 3pm.

I would like to let you know that Department of California Commander John Aldridge stated that the Department of California Revitalization held at American Legion E Pasadena Post 280 was a success with membership renewal. I would like for the District to achieve the same success as the Department of California had with their membership revitalization. I am requesting for a great turnout to help to make the calls.

I will be attending the Area Caucus at Benjamin J Bowie Post 228 on February 3, 2024. I will email all District Post with important information that all Post need to know. I am also going to attend the D.E.C meeting at Santa Maria, from March 15-17, 2024. If you are going to attend the D.E.C please reserve your room as soon as possible so that you have a room. I would like to inform all Post Commanders that I am going to try to attend one of your next meetings.

I would like to remind all Post that if there are any issues in your Post to please handle the issues in house and do not contact the Department of California with your issues. If you need assistance please District and we will try to help you with recommendations.

Comrades, my goal is for the District to have as many District Posts to achieve a 100% membership goal and the District to have a 100% membership renewal 100%, 2023-2024. I understand that members are not renewing their membership as of late but I have confidence that we will achieve my goal as District Commander as we continue to work together as a member of the American Legion family which is the best Veterans Organization in the Country.

Commanders I would like to request that when you have an event scheduled to please inform me and send me the flyer as well as District 1st Vice Commander Wilvert so that we can inform the District Post so that if they are available they can attend and support the event. I would like to inform you all that District 19 will be having a Breakfast in March 2024 at a location we are still working on. Once we have finalized the location and time I will inform all District 19 Post with the information so that if you are available you and your family are welcome to attend.

Let not forget to BE THE ONE!!!!!

Thank You Fernando Gallardo District 19, Commander Rivera Post 411 2nd Vice Commander 213-925-8927

1st Vice Commander—Karl Wilvert

Comrades,

The year is rushing along, hard to believe that January is already over.

Our work to increase the fold is ongoing and I am reaching out to every post in the district to participate in our District 19 Revitalization on February 17. It will be held at Rivera Post 411 from 9am to 3pm. Even posts that have reached 100% can benefit participating by making contact with post 1000 members. Discussing advantages of being an active member of your post can help boost your post strength as well as bring members to your events and officer positions.

Please take advantage of nurturing current membership to become active participants in American Legion and Post activities. Getting membership involved will help not only the post but will help current volunteers to not be overwhelmed with more than they can realistically handle.

USS Gravely shoots down another Houthi missile over the Red Sea (Jan 31, 09:34 AM)

The Navy destroyer Gravely shot down an anti-ship cruise missile fired by Iran-backed Houthi rebels in Yemen toward the Red Sea on Tuesday night, according to U.S. Central Command.

No injuries or damage were reported, CENTCOM said in a brief statement.

The intercept comes just days after a drone attack on Tower 22, a U.S. outpost in Jordan, killed three soldiers and injured dozens more.

Navy warships have shot down dozens of attack drones and missiles in the Middle East since October.

Gravely's intercept also came on the same day that the Iran-backed militant group Kataib Hezbollah issued a statement directing its fighters to halt attacks on U.S. troops in Iraq and Syria.

The statement from the group, first reported by Reuters, came within hours of President Joe Biden telling reporters Tuesday that he had decided on a response to Sunday's fatal drone attack, one the Pentagon said "has the footprints" of a Kataib Hezbollah operation.

There have been more than 160 attacks on U.S. forces in Iraq and Syria since October, when the Israel-Hamas war began.

VA hopes to convince tech workers that public service matters

Veterans Affairs officials want to hire more skilled experts from the tech industry. But first they have to convince them that government jobs are important too.

"The tech industry as a whole lacks a tradition of public service, which I personally think is distressing," said Charles Worthington, chief technology officer for the department, during a press event Thursday. "This industry needs to grow up and build that culture.

"One of the most prestigious things you can do out of law school is to clerk for a federal judge. But there's no equivalent, for a staff engineer. A significant number of the best lawyers, the best scientists in the country, they work in public service for part of their careers. Tech industry workers also need to view it as part of their job to spend some of their career in public service too."

Worthington's comments came as officials from the department's information and technology branch discussed plans to boost their workforce in the coming year, with an emphasis on specialists in cyber security, artificial intelligence and user support services.

Kurt DelBene, Assistant Secretary for Information and Technology, said one of the biggest obstacles in filling those jobs isn't availability but convincing skilled recruits that "VA is a great place to work."

"It's a sacred mission to be delivering health care and benefits to veterans who have already committed their lives to defending us around the world," he said. "That's a great value proposition to recruits, but we have to match it with a better career path. You need to have an understand-able career path you can launch into, in industry just as well as government."

Worthington said VA leaders have been working on that in recent years, developing job descriptions that better correspond to commercial sector posts. New pay and hiring rules adopted by Congress in 2022 are also helping with those goals.

"As a whole, government has been relatively slow to create roles that make sense for somebody that has spent their whole career in the tech industry," he said. "We're changing that now with some of these new positions, and by making it easier to get into the government."

DelBene did not specify what his agency's hiring targets for fiscal 2024 will be, but noted that VA as a whole has made hiring a point of emphasis in the last year.

The information technology branch has seen significant growth in recent years. VA's health and benefits mobile app passed 2 million down-loads in late 2023, and VA.gov — the department's main online portal — sees roughly 13 million logins per month, its highest usage rate ever.
